DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the marker light in claim 2, and direction for installation in claim 10 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance. The drawings are objected to because the numbers in figure 1 are not legible (too small). Corrected

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 11, 16 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sylvester (US Pat. No 6,655,822) or Pratt (US Pat. No 6,409,367) or Citron (US Pat. No 6,607,285) or McClintock (US Pat. No 3,487,359).

Sylvester discloses a trailer light kit (10) comprising: a bracket (34) for (intended use) mounting a light to a trailer (col. 4, lines 25-30), the bracket including an extension holder (32), an extension (12), insertable into the extension holder, and a light mechanism (18), comprising a light (22) and a light harness (24) for attaching the light into a trailer receptacle (38).

Pratt discloses a trailer light kit comprising: a bracket (10) for (intended use) mounting a light to a trailer, the bracket including an extension holder (20), an extension (16), insertable into the extension holder, and a light mechanism, comprising a light (15) and a light harness for attaching the light into a trailer receptacle (not shown but it is inherent).

Citron discloses a trailer light kit comprising: a bracket for (intended use) mounting a light to a trailer, the bracket including an extension holder (not numbered, fig. 1), an extension (120), insertable into the extension holder, and a light mechanism, comprising a light (140) and a light harness for attaching the light into a trailer receptacle (inherent).

McClintock discloses a trailer light kit comprising: a bracket (62, fig. 4) for mounting a light to a trailer, the bracket including an extension holder (64), an extension (16), insertable into the extension holder, and a light mechanism (20), comprising a light and a light harness 31) for attaching the light into a trailer receptacle (not shown).

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sylvester.

Sylvester discloses the claimed invention as applied above in claim 1 and further discloses the a pin (32) for insertion into a bore (not numbered, fig. 1) hole of the extension.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-8, 10, 15, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McClintock.

MaClintock discloses the claimed invention as applied above except for the extension are made of aluminum. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the extension of an aluminum, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

McClintock further teaches that the stop and turn indicators mounted on the tube extending vertically from the vicinity of each rear fender of an vehicle to a substantially above the vehicle in order to be visible both to the driver of the vehicle involved and to the other operators of vehicles for a considerable distance from the vehicle.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-5, 12-14, and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Rasinski (US Pat. No 4,286,309), Blackard (US Pat. No 5,544,022), and Gamble, Sr. (US Pat. No 6,302,567) all are cited of interest.
